Greetings from Muirhead Canning

Well, after a cool spring the fruit trees are a couple of weeks behind last year. It does feel like summer is finally arriving and so we might catch up a little bit. So far the cherry crop looks good and after two years of a short crop I am excited at the chance of getting a little extra put up.

I have spent the winter overhauling engines. I rebuilt a forklift engine (it runs!!) and my daily driver (not quite finished). The daily driver is a newer diesel engine and so has been a big challenge but I am feeling optimistic. In the cannery I have updated the water packer (it puts hot water into the cans to top them up after getting fruit and sugar). My oldest son, Grant, has graduated from high school and has finished lineman school. There hasn't been a pole at the cannery he hasn't climbed now. Jenny's business, Jenny Marie's Italian Ice + Frozen Custard, out of a little food truck has been a great success. If you are in The Dalles this summer, stop by Jenny Marie's downtown at 801 E. 2nd. You will love it!!

Thanks to everyone who supports this little cannery, you make it possible for us to keep supplying this ripe Northwest canned fruit. I am looking forward to a great canning season and then seeing you this fall.

Have a great Summer!

Russell Loughmiller, Owner & Operator,
Muirhead Canning Co.

P.S. Adele Hooker from Milwaukie, Oregon sent us this poem which sums up how our happy Hood Crest customers feel.

HOOD-CREST! THE BEST!

From Peru to Nome

There's just one canned peach

That's worthy of a poem.

For all it's fame

Do you know it's name?

HOOD-CREST!

And it's by miles the best!

So long to my favorite sparing partner:
Jimmy Brewer

I met Jimmy (Jim) Brewer when I was hired onto a farm in 2002. Jimmy was the farm manager of a pretty big operation and I was a new lucky. When I left four years later to buy Muirhead Cannery Jimmy became a friend that I visited with often.

Jimmy & his side-kick Buddy

Jimmy retired a few years after I purchased the cannery and so he was more available to answer my calls and when I was out on deliveries I would call. Long drives were broken up talking about business or more often arguing about politics. We agreed on a few things but could always find something to argue about because that is more interesting. When things got a little too heated we would change the subject and remain friends.

A few years ago the parking brake failed in my delivery truck and its transmission doesn't have a park setting (the only automatic transmission I have ever seen like that). To keep the truck from rolling when I got to a customer's house I would wedge a block of wood onto the regular foot brake. This was fine if the truck was running and continuing to build air (the truck has air over hydraulic brakes), if you turned the truck off the air would bleed off and after 30 minutes the truck would be free to roll. I told Jimmy all about the parking brake failing and then told him the following story.

"I finished the deliveries for the day and then found a rest area to park in for the night. The parking lot was sloped down and out into the desert but not a problem because I wedged the block of wood over the brake pedal so the truck wouldn't move. After killing the truck, I got out my bed roll and set it up in the back of the truck. I got ready for bed and then laid down to read before falling asleep. While laying there reading the air was slowly draining out of the system and eventually the brakes released. The truck started to roll and there I was - a passenger in the box, along for the ride. I could tell when the truck hit the curb and bounced over to start down the brush-covered slope because I and my load of fruit were bouncing all over the place." This is as far as I got in this fictional story because Jimmy was laughing so hard. Jimmy had a great laugh and he loved to laugh.

I tried calling Jimmy on June 2nd of last year and he didn't answer, shortly after his son texted to say that his dad couldn't talk because he had suffered a heart attack. Jimmy passed away on June 19th of 2022. I will always remember the sound of Jimmy laughing as he imagined me bouncing across the desert. I miss that laugh.

A Choose Your Fruit, Then Choose The Type of Liquid It's Packed In

Our delectable canned fruit comes from the heart of the Northwest fruit growing country. We use only the ripest, mouth-watering fruit so it's fresh-picked flavor is preserved no matter which liquid you select for it to be packed in. We use only the most delicious Non-GMO fruit.

Once you have decided on your canned fruit choice, you need to choose what kind of liquid you want it packed in. Here are the descriptions of our different syrups.

LIGHT SYRUP offers a hint of sweetness for your discriminating taste. We use real cane sugar, not corn sweetener, in both our sweetened syrups. We never use any artificial preservatives in any of our fruit products.

HEAVY SYRUP contains more sugar and blends well into many of your favorite recipes.

WATER PACK is especially good for sugar-free diets. It allows the full natural flavors of the fruit to come through. You may also add your own sugar-free sweeteners if you desire more sweetness without the added calories.

B Choose How Much to Order

Be sure to order an amount that you will be able to use in 3 years or less as that is when canned fruits are at their peak flavor.

Note: A cool storage area will prolong the shelf-life of canned goods.
